Rutgers University

The State University of New Jersey

Rutgers, The State University, which began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution, celebrated its Bicentennial Anniversary in 1966. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers originally was called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

New Jersey College for Women (renamed Douglass in 1955) was founded in 1918 and in 1945, all divisions of Rutgers were brought within the designation of the State University of New Jersey. The College of South Jersey, now known as Camden-Rutgers, joined the family in 1950 and Rutgers came under management of an 11-man Board of Governors as Rutgers, The State University, in 1955.

Under the direction of Dr. Mason W. Gross, inaugurated in 1959 as the 16th president, Rutgers has grown from approximately 3,500 to about 7,000 now, including enrollment at Livingston, the newest college of the University. Continued expansion is expected with three additional colleges to be developed within the next 10 to 15 years.

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

John F. Bateman, Head Coach

AN OVERALL mark of 57-35 and four outstanding teams—9-0 in 1961, 8-1 in 1960, 8-2 in 1968 and 6-3 in 1969 are the highlights of the 10 years John Bateman has spent as head coach of Rutgers football.

Bateman brought instant success here from three years as an assistant at Penn and 11 years as an aide to Lou Little at Columbia. His first two teams won 17 of 18 games and Bateman, himself, asked, "What do we do for an encore?"

The Scarlet then ran into some lean years, just about breaking even. In 1968 things began clicking again and Rutgers earned fifth place in the East with its 8-2 record and won its last five games. "That was my most satisfying season as a coach," Bateman said.

A native New Jerseyman, Bateman attended Central High and St. Benedict's Prep in Newark before entering Columbia in 1934. He played guard under Little at Morningside Heights, captaining the 1937 Lion eleven. After three years in the Navy and three years of coaching at Middletown, N. Y., High School, he joined Little's staff at his alma mater in 1940.

When Bateman first came to Rutgers, he installed the double-wing T which had been successful at Penn under Steve Sebo. In recent years, the Scarlet has changed to a balanced line T attack, including the "I" and split backfields. "You can't stand pat. Defenses catch up with offenses and new (old) wrinkles must be tried," Bateman says.

Named in 1961 as "Coach of the Year" by the Washington, D. C., Touchdown Club, Bateman holds a master's degree in political science and a doctorate in education from Columbia. To many, he is known as "Doctor John."

Bateman and his wife, Anita, have three sons and are grandparents.

Frank Burns, Associate Head Coach

FRANK BURNS assumed a new job in 1968 and in the process, lost some of his records. Appointed as Associate Head Coach by Bateman, Burns continued to direct the offense and his number one pupil, Rich Policastro, proceeded to wipe some of Burns' passing records off the Rutgers books. This is Burns' third term on the Rutgers coaching staff. Immediately after concluding a spectacular college career as a quarterback, he became a freshman aide in 1949. He left here for a two-year stint as head coach at Johns Hopkins, returned in 1956, then spent four years as head coach at Chatham High School. He joined Bateman's staff in 1961. A native of Roselle Park, Burns earned All-East honors as a quarterback and played in the East-West and Herald Tribune Shrine games, earning the most valuable player trophy in the latter.

Robert Naso, Defensive Coach

BOB NASO became defensive coordinator in 1968, his third job as a member of John Bateman's staff. Originally the freshman coach, a post he held three years, Naso became defensive line coach in 1964 and in 1968 took charge of defensive planning. Naso, who also is the head lacrosse coach, excelled in football and lacrosse as an undergraduate. An All-American in the latter sport, he has a 63-40-1 record as coach. In 1968 he was head coach of the North team in the all-star game.

William J. Speranza, Defensive Backs

SUCCESS has followed Bill Speranza's football career. As a senior quarterback, he helped guide Rutgers to an undefeated record (9-0 in 1961). His last of four seasons as Rutgers freshman coach (1967) the record was 5-0. And in 1968, when he took charge of the defensive backs, Rutgers went 8-2 and his pass defenders held the opposition to only five touchdowns via the air—three in the last game. Speranza, who coached for two years in his native Bethlehem, Pa., was an outstanding baseball catcher for Rutgers in addition to playing football.

Naso

Speranza

James Taigia, Offensive Line

NEW TO the staff in 1968, Jim Taigia last fall took over direction of the offensive line, facing a giant rebuilding task. Graduation took its greatest toll in these ranks. A teammate of Frank Burns' during their Rutgers playing days under Harvey Harman, Taigia coached at Piscataway, Hillside and Rahway High Schools before returning to his alma mater. He was a guard as a college player. While a high school coach, he was active as a basketball official.

Sampson Brown, Freshman Coach

AFTER TWO years as assistant freshman coach, with responsibilities for coaching the linemen, Sam Brown last fall became head freshman coach. A native and resident of Rahway, Sam came to Rutgers in 1964 as a 24-year-old sophomore and after seven years away from competition, made the varsity as a defensive lineman in 1965 and 1966. Sam has been active in community work and in 1968 served as director of the N.C.A.A.-sponsored Rutgers Summer Youth Program. His 1969 team was 5-2.

Peter Savino, Assistant Freshman Coach

NEWEST MEMBER of the Rutgers staff is Pete Savino, who has been singled out since his arrival as a player at Rutgers in 1965 as "coaching material." A great at Perth Amboy High School, Pete played quarterback, end and defensive back for Rutgers and coaches the freshman backs. He is doing graduate study in addition to coaching and was married last year.

Albert W. Twitchell, Director of Athletics

ALBERT W. TWITCHELL is entering his 10th year as athletic director. A 1935 Rutgers alumnus, Twitchell has been on the University staff since 1947, serving as a coach in lacrosse (head) and football (assistant) for the first 13 years.

Twitchell compiled a 90-31-1 12-year lacrosse record, was once coach of the year and is in the Lacrosse Hall of Fame. In administration, he has served on numerous eastern and national committees, was a principal organizer, and is president, of the National Association of College Athletic Directors, and directed Rutgers' resounding Centennial celebration last year.

As an undergraduate, he received the Donald Leslie Coursen trophy, highest individual athletic award given by the University, after excelling in football and lacrosse.

Frederick E. Gruninger, Assistant Director

SINCE July, 1968, Fred Gruninger has been Al Twitchell's chief aide. A 1953 Rutgers alumnus, Fred served in Alumni Relations for five years, holding the title of Associate Director, before shifting to the Athletic Department in 1964. As an undergraduate he played football and baseball and following his graduation was a golf professional briefly. For seven years he has coached the Rutgers varsity golf team, which he has directed to a 79-27-1 record.

Otto H. Hill, Business Manager

A MEMBER OF the Rutgers staff since 1947, Otto Hill was appointed business manager of athletics in 1961. A 1942 graduate of Rutgers, he served in the Army and Air Force during World War II returning to earn his master's degree in 1947. He was a football assistant through 1955 and served as freshman and later varsity swimming coach until 1961, when he assumed his present assignment.

Donald Heilman, Assistant to the Director

BUD HEILMAN combines duties as assistant to the athletic director with assisting John Bateman as defensive line coach. He joined the Rutgers staff in 1966 after six years as head football coach at Kutztown State. He is an alumnus of West Chester State.

LAFAYETTE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 24; Lettermen Lost: 14

Although the Leopards lost their two best running backs, starting quarterback and outstanding pass receiver, Coach Harry Gamble feels that this year's squad may be his best balanced team and is looking for improvement on last season's record.

Lafayette has only one vacancy in its defensive unit and plenty of candidates to fill it. Especially strong are ends Joe Person and Jack Bourger, tackle Stu Steelman and middle guard Myles Andrews.

Offensively Gamble will call upon Captain Rich McKay as the Leopard's signal caller. Jack Hickl will be the tailback. The team's strongest position may be flanker-back with Bob Donofrio and Jon Cureton.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 44, Lafayette 22

Rutgers opened its Centennial Season by squashing Lafayette with a well-balanced passing and running attack. The Knights scored 41 points in the first half to take a commanding lead into the lockerroom. Quarterback Rich Policastro equaled his own school mark, which had been set the year before, by throwing four touchdown passes, two to Jim Benedict, and one each to Bruce Van Ness and Al Fenstermacher. On the ground, Van Ness and fullback Steve Ferrughelli picked up 172 yards between them. The Knights gained 264 yards rushing and 248 in the air.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: Of the 65 games played since the series began in 1882, Rutgers has won 36, lost 28, and tied one. (Lafayette's records count a Rutgers default in 1893.) Scores of the last 10 games:

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost: 19

The Tigers got off to a rocky start in New Brunswick last year but recovered to tie Dartmouth and Yale for first in the Ivy League. The loss of 13 of 22 starters poses a considerable problem to second-year coach Jake McCandless, particularly on defense where graduation took away three-fourths of his backfield and three members of the line. Up front, only junior end Steve Sikora returns as do five line-backers headed by captain Dennis Burns.

Offensively, Princeton lost its first two quarterbacks, fullback Ellis Moore, and five lineman, but the overall picture is not dismal with fine running backs Brian McCullough, Hank Bjorklund and Doug Blake on hand, plus top graduates of an undefeated frosh team.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 29, Princeton 0

Rutgers celebrated the Centennial by defeating Princeton, 29-0, before 31,000 fans in Rutgers Stadium and millions more who watched the telecast. It was the most lopsided Rutgers win in the 60 games played between the teams and was accomplished via great defense (Princeton's brand new T got only two first downs in the first half) and Rich Policastro's accurate right arm.

Polly hit 12 of his first 14 passes and Rutgers led, 21-0, at halftime. Policastro scored first on a rollout, Bruce Van Ness scored second on a plunge and Policastro passed to Bob Stonebraker to complete the first half scoring. The game's other TD was on a pass from Mike Yancheff to Joe Barone.

SERIES RECORD WITH PRINCETON: Rutgers has won 6 of the last 12 games, but only 10 of the 60 since the oldest college football rivalry began on Nov. 6, 1869, with a 6-4 Rutgers win. Scores of the last 10 games:

HARVARD PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 16; Lettermen Lost: 20

Last year, Harvard suffered its first losing season since 1958. According to John Yovicsin, entering his 14th and last season as coach, the climb back toward the top will not be an easy one.

Highlighting what Yovicsin calls his "young potential" are five quarterback candidates. Offensively, only four starters return from last year's team, including ends Pete Varney and Bruce Freeman, halfback Steve Harrison and fullback Tom Miller. Defensively, Harvard has six starters back, headed by linebacker and captain, Gary Farneti.

LAST GAME: Harvard 28, Rutgers 0 (1963)

In 1963, Rutgers traveled to Cambridge and lost to an explosive Crimson club. Ultimately, Harvard finished the season in a third place Ivy finish and a 5-2-2 record. The Scarlet had an unexciting 3-6 season.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: Rutgers leads in the series 2-1, winning the first two games in 1946 and 1947.

All-Americans

Four Rutgers players have been selected as All-Americans by recognized national agencies.

They are Paul Robeson, Homer Hazel, Bill Austin and Alex Kroll.

Robeson, an end, was selected in 1917 and 1918 to become the first Rutgers player so honored.

Hazel, who died in 1968, was selected in 1923 and 1924, the first time as an end, the next year at fullback.

It wasn't until 1958 that another Rutgers player was selected. Austin, who played tailback in the single wing, was selected 12 years ago at a halfback position.

And in 1961, when Rutgers completed a 9-0 season, Kroll was named to the center spot, earning first-team ranking on seven of the nine nationally-named teams.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 18; Lettermen Lost: 21

Lehigh won Middle Three honors last year, thanks to an upset over Rutgers and a win over Lafayette, and the Engineers have two of the key players from their best season in 8 years returning—little All-American tackle Thad Jamula and halfback Don Diorio.

While Jamula will lead the offensive line, Coach Fred Dunlap is looking for defensive tackles and a linebacker to replace Chuck Lieb, one of the heroes of the victory over Rutgers.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Lehigh 17, Rutgers 7

Before 16,000 fans, Lehigh handed Rutgers its first defeat of the season and exited from New Brunswick with the first Engineer victory over a Scarlet team since 1957.

Despite Rich Policastro's 29 completions in 53 attempts, the Lehigh defense bolstered by linebacker Chuck Lieb, held the Rutgers offense in the second half to enable the Engineers to post a come-from-behind 17-7 victory. With one minute remaining in the third quarter, Lehigh's Dennis Clayton picked off an errant Policastro aerial and galloped 51 yards for the go-ahead score.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: Rutgers leads the series, 38-27-1. It began in 1884. Scores of the last 10 games.

DELAWARE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 27; Lettermen Lost: 13

Delaware, NCAA Eastern Regional College Division champion and winner of the Lambert Cup the past two years, has lost 11 starters including eight three-year regulars and two All-Americans, quarterback Tom DiMuzio and linebacker John Favero.

Coach Tubby Raymond hopes that Jim Colbert can adequately replace DiMuzio, the Middle Atlantic Conference's Most Valuable Player and the leader of Delaware's powerful offensive unit last season.

Returning are fullback Chuck Hall and halfbacks Dick Kelley and Bill Armstrong plus key offensive linemen Conway Hayman and Yancy Phillips. Defensively, the Hens will be led by safetymen Bruce Fad and Pete Sundheim, linebacker Ray Holcomb and cornerback Roy Klein.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Delaware 44, Rutgers 0

Delaware, on its way to a second bowl game in a row, had a 5-1 record, as did Rutgers. But it was "no contest" as the Blue Hens dominated completely. The Scarlet absorbed its worst beating in 13 seasons, with a large number of injuries contributing to the whipping.

Delaware gained 537 yards and held the Scarlet to 24 rushing plus 195 passing. Hall gained 149 yards to lead the devastating Delaware attack.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: Rutgers leads the series, which began in 1901, 14-11-3. Scores of the last 10 games:

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 20; Lettermen Lost: 13

After last year's 1-8 season, third-year coach Frank Navarro feels that he is about ready to field an improved team, largely with the aid of a talented group of sophomores. Navarro's optimism has been fed by the likes of quarterback Don Jackson, a promising passer-runner, and flanker Jesse Parks.

Parks will join a steady corps of receivers including George Starke, last year's leading pass catcher, John Sefcik, Mike Jones and Charles Laughinghouse. Sefcik was the team's leading rusher last year. Defensively, the Lions will be led by line-backer and co-captain Ray Ramsey.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 21, Columbia 14

Back-up quarterback Mike Yancheff directed an 11 play, 57-yard march and scored on a three yard run with 38 seconds remaining to give Rutgers a thrilling 21-14 victory over Columbia.

Columbia jumped off to a 14-0 lead behind the heroics of sophomore tailback John Sefcik. Sefcik ran for 169 yards and scored both Lion touchdowns on runs of 20 and 1 yards.

Rutgers starting quarterback Rich Policastro completed 11 of 17 passes including a 3-yard touchdown toss to Randy Bokesch in the second period. Tailback Larry Robertson tied the score in the third period on a 10 yard run. Defensive back Sam Chapman's interception set up the game-winning drive.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: In football's second oldest rivalry, which began in 1870, Columbia has won 19, lost 18, tied 5. Scores of the last 10 games:

Coach Fred Prender's strongest unit is his defense, and the Bisons may need to flex their strength against a strong schedule. Standouts on the defensive line include Dan Spahn, Ken Donahue, co-captain Gene Depew and George Clayton.

Offensively, the Bisons will be led at quarterback by co-captain Don Giacomelli and Greg Doviak who will battle for the starting berth. Prender will look at a number of sophomores to fill the running back spots.

LAST GAME: Rutgers 21, Bucknell 6

In 1961, on a rain-soaked field in Bucknell's Memorial Stadium, Rutgers swept to its third victory of what was to become the Knights first undefeated season since Rutgers was 1-0 in 1876. Sam Mudie, Bill Speranza, and Bill Thompson scored for the Scarlet.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: In the series which began in 1922, Rutgers leads 5-3.

Hawaii Trip Planned

There are some trips and some new opponents in Rutgers football future.

Highlight of the special games announced recently by Athletic Director Al Twitchell is a home-and-home series with the University of Hawaii, including a visit to the Island on Nov. 30, 1974, the Saturday following Thanksgiving, and Hawaii's visit to New Brunswick, Oct. 4, 1975.

Continuing its recent interest in meeting the service academies, Rutgers will visit the Air Force Academy, Nov. 10, 1973, and will entertain the Falcons the following year on Oct. 26.

Also in 1974-75, Rutgers will play William and Mary, in Williamsburg, Oct. 19, 1974, and home, Oct. 18, 1975, and will play Army, Nov. 6, 1971, in West Point, and Oct. 21, 1972, in New Brunswick.

Special arrangements have been made for fans interested in making the Hawaii junket. For information write: Ticket Office, Rutgers Gym, New Brunswick, N. J. 08903.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 24; Lettermen Lost: 21

Larry Naviaux in his first season led Boston University to its finest season. The team was judged tops in New England, the coach tops in the nation (college division) and his squad was 9-1 in regular-season play before bowing to powerful San Diego State in a bowl game.

Nine offensive starters will return from that team, but eight defensive stalwarts must be replaced. Four of those eight were professional draft choices. Sam Hollo, a mid-season appointee to quarterback, heads a completely intact starting backfield. The roster is abundant with sizeable personnel to go along with speed and experience, which means the Terriers should be strong again.

LAST GAME: Rutgers 16, Boston U. 7 (1966)

Rutgers kicker Jim Dulin provided the margin of victory with three field goals and one extra point as the Knights and the Terriers fought a battle dominated by defense. Sophomore quarterback (now assistant freshman coach) Pete Savino threw a 42-yard touchdown pass to end Jack Emmer to open scoring. Two kicks by Dulin (33 and 42 yards) gave Rutgers a 13-0 halftime lead.

Before Dulin's last field goal, Boston U. quarterback Tom Thornton directed a 68 yard drive and scored on a two yard keeper play.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: Rutgers has won six of the eight games played since the series began in 1923.

HOLY CROSS PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 11; Lettermen Lost: 13

Bill Whitton, who left a Princeton assistantship to take over at Holy Cross, only to have hepatitis take over, instead, is almost in the same position as a year ago—starting anew. The exception is that he had spring practice in June, Holy Cross' first since 1951.

Three seniors—fullback Tom Lamb, flanker Ed Murphy and tackle Bill Moncevic were given extra eligibility as a result of the hepatitis outbreak. Mark Mowatt is a veteran quarterback who will get competition from some talented newcomers. Inexperience, however, will be a major factor for the Crusaders in the early going.

LAST GAME: Rutgers 41, Holy Cross 14 (1968)

Rich Policastro and Bryant Mitchell were the leaders as Rutgers overcame a 14-7 halftime deficit, scoring five second half touchdowns and setting several team records to defeat Holy Cross in 1968.

Rutgers drove 58, 52 and 62 yards in the third period, Mitchell scoring on scampers of 6 and 20 yards and Policastro passing for a TD. In all, Mitchell gained 152 yards and Polly passed for two TDs. Steve Jutras led Holy Cross with 132 yards on the ground.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: The rivalry shows Holy Cross ahead, 10-3. The series began in 1916. Scores of the last 10 games:

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 24; Lettermen Lost: 13

After a 5-3-1 record last year, Colgate coach Neil Wheelwright faces an 11-game schedule this season with an experienced quarterback in Steve Goepel as well as solid offensive and defensive backfields. The development of both lines will be the Red Raiders biggest areas of concern.

Wheelwright's top returning players, offensively, should be Goepel, running backs Don Fischer and Steve Morgan and guard Brian Houseal. On defense, the Raiders will look to backs John Robertson, Tom Doyle and Doug Willies, tackle and captain John Lennon and linebacker Mike Rainnie.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 48, Colgate 12

After a glorious beginning and a somewhat disappointing middle, Rutgers ended its Centennial season on a positive note by crushing Colgate 48-12.

Behind quarterback Rich Policastro, the Knights scored the first three times they got their hands on the ball. Overall, Policastro concluded a fabulous career by tossing five touchdown passes in his farewell performance.

Bruce Van Ness also ended his college career illustriously, scoring three times. Randy Bokesch, Jim Benedict, Steve Ferrughelli and Jim Fallon also scored for Rutgers. Don Fischer and Steve Morgan notched Colgate's two touchdowns, both in the last period.

SERIES RECORD WITH RUTGERS: Colgate leads 12-11 in the series which began in 1933. Scores of the last 10 games:

Rutgers	Year	Colgate	Rutgers	Year	Colgate

The Outlook, 1970

A respectable defense—there are eight returning starters; an offense that must prove itself—only two of the linemen were starters in 1969. That's the capsule preview of the 1970 Rutgers football team.

If the defense has a question mark, it is at inside linebacker where Bob Coppola, a converted guard, and Andy Malekoff, a promising sophomore, earned the first unit nods in spring practice. The only other defensive post to be filled by a non-letterman is right halfback, where Hal Lippman, a backup operative last year, showed to good advantage in the spring.

The main offensive problems are to replace the most prolific passer and receiver (Rich Policastro and Jim Benedict) in Rutgers history, plus the versatile Bruce Van Ness and numerous linemen.

For two years, Mike Yancheff (6-4, 215) has been serving as Policastro's spare tire. Coach John Bateman is confident the strong senior can master the intricacies of the attack. "Mike is good enough to have been a starter almost any year other than when Policastro was here," Bateman said. Under Yancheff, a strong, although not fast runner, Rutgers figures to attack the corners more and drop back less. He is a good option runner and with Steve Ferrughelli, an All-American prospect at fullback, and Larry Robertson, a swift, elusive tailback, the running attack should be potent.

Al Fenstemacher is a veteran at flanker, but the other receivers will be new. Jim Fallon (6-5, 217) looms as an easy-to-find target at tight end. Split end is wide open, with Bob Shutte, converted defensive back, leading the list. Mike Kizis is a solid guard, but the rest of the interior line is light or new. Very definitely, the developments at center, guard and tackle hold the key to the offensive efficiency. The backs are there if the line can do the job.

Bateman was pleased with spring drills and rates Sam Chapman, Larry Clymer, John Miller and Mike Pellowski as the defensive leaders. Bateman rates the defense "tough and active." He said: "They have great spirit and pursuit and really hit."

He says, "Ferrughelli could be the best fullback we have had. He's faster and bigger than Steve Simms (1961 all-east), but doesn't yet have Simms' ability to stay on his feet." Ferrughelli's receiving and blocking ability also is appreciated.

On the season: "Injuries hold the key. We don't have replacements the equal of our starters in many places. If Yancheff becomes the quarterback we think he will be, we can have another winning year."

The Leading Scarlet Knights

Ends

- RANDY BOKESCH, senior. Randy took over starting position at tight end last year after Bob Stonebraker's injury, catching 15 passes, two for TDs . . . May appear in backup role at split end in 1970 . . . Was three-sport high school performer in Youngstown, O. . . Environmental Sciences major.
- JOE BREIG, sophomore. As a scholastic wingback, Joe set the Millville High record for pass receiving yardage, but appears to have found a role as a reserve defensive end . . . A tailback as a frosh . . . Earned district honors in high school . . . Played baseball also . . . Studies the stock market . . . An Economics major.
- JIM FALLON, junior. Used sparingly in '69, Jim is the leading candidate for tight end . . . Had strong showing in spring game, catching 5 passes . . . At 6-5, is fine target, can be good blocker . . . Caught final TD pass of year in game against Colgate . . . Has added 20 pounds since last year . . . Majoring in Business Administration.
- ANDY NAPORANO, senior. A varsity defensive regular in lacrosse, Andy has gained reputation as rough, active pass rusher in previous two football seasons . . . Has been a regular since joining team . . . His uncle, Tony, played for Rutgers (1934-36) and has coached in high school ranks for 30 years . . . Andy is pre-law student.
- MIKE PELLOWSKI, senior. Mike played at 225 pounds last year, 20 pounds above his sophomore weight . . . Is possibly the outstanding member of the "front four" . . . Was "monster" in Lafayette game after harrassing passer consistently . . . Best pass rusher on team . . . Has been regular for two years, was baseball team's top pinch hitter . . . Physical Education student.
- BOB SHUTTE, junior. A very versatile athlete, Bob could wind up as the split end after a year as a defensive back . . . Kicked 13 of 15 PAT's last year, excellent at short range . . . Missed spring practice because of baseball duty in district playoffs . . . A fine shortstop/third baseman . . . Majors in Agricultural Business.
- EARL (Joe) SCHLAFFER, junior. A frosh quarterback, Joe was tried at flanker last year, but in the spring, showed promise as a defensive end, moving up to second unit on the depth chart . . . Set passing records at Penns Grove High, also was high jumper . . . Agricultural Business student.

Tackles

- ALAN BAIN, sophomore. Up from the freshman squad, Alan was given a long looksee in the spring and was impressive . . . A Woodbury High grad, he could see lots of action on offense, where after year of seasoning, could be starter . . . Good size and willing attitude . . . Bright future for the Liberal Arts major.
- MURRAY BAKST, senior. Murray has had trials at linebacker, center and tackle and has now been given the starting nod at tackle, though a shift to guard is not beyond possibility . . . Worked hard in spring at pulling . . . Fine reactions and speed . . . High school wrestler and trackman, football All-stater . . . Enrolled in Agricultural Business curriculum.
- JOHN BAUER, senior. A one-time end, shifted to tackle last season, John is small as an offensive tackle but a tough competitor . . . Was a starter all last year despite numerous injuries . . . A football All-stater at Delbarton . . . His father is coach and AD at Randolph Township . . . Also plans to coach . . . Majors in Education.
- DOUG CAMPBELL, junior. His view from the bench as a sophomore stirred Doug to try harder, and he had an improved spring training, though still listed as a backup operative . . . Offensive line still is far from set, however, which gives him renewed hope . . . Was shot putter in high school . . . Majors in Agricultural Economics.
- JON KARRAKER, junior. Playing in a reserve role last year, Jon saw considerable action on defense and could parlay the experience into a starting shot . . . Best talent is quickness . . . Wrestled and played baseball in Ridgewood . . . Wants to coach . . . A History student.

GARY MARTIN, junior. A starter as a sophomore after injuries sidelined Paul Milea, Gary displayed the quickness to be an outstanding defensive lineman . . . Makes up for lack of size with speed . . . Had brief trial at linebacker in spring, but returned to line. Hobbies are flying and skydiving . . . Majoring in meteorology.

PAUL MILEA, senior. Tapped for starting duty last year, Paul was handicapped by a knee injury, the result of his winter exploits as the Scarlet's heavyweight wrestler . . . A former high school fullback, he may battle Kevin O'Connor for starting honors if summer operation heals . . . Was 4th in east in wrestling tourney . . . Wildlife Conservation major.

KEVIN O'CONNOR, senior. Kevin was an outstanding scholastic fullback and linebacker on Long Island and saw enough action last year to earn letter . . . Up to 215 pounds, he liked the move to defensive tackle made during spring drills despite bothersome thumb fracture . . . Majors in Agricultural Business.

GREG SIVESS, senior. After trials at guard (sophomore) and linebacker (junior), Greg was moved to tackle midway through 1969 and performed respectably there during spring drills . . . Son of Andy Sivess, three-sport star for Rutgers, where he is head trainer . . . Recently married, Greg is Plant Science major, hopes to be landscaper.

Guards

LARRY CHRISTOFF, sophomore. Larry is young, strong and eager and could become a regular at guard, or possibly tackle . . . Was given thorough trials at several posts last spring, including defense . . . On spring effort, could be the ranking sophomore lineman . . . Should get bigger . . . Was high school center . . . Liberal Arts major.

MIKE KIZIS, senior. Two-year starter at tackle, Mike moved to guard for '69 finale and has made it home . . . Has fullest veteran status along the offensive line and shouldn't be hampered by size in new spot . . . Lettered as lacrosse midfielder . . . Will be a running guard and well-suited to task . . . Pursues an Electrical Engineering degree.

BOB WILUSZ, junior. Converted from a reserve defensive end, Bob waged a tough battle for the starting guard spot in spring training and will continue to be in the picture . . . Could pull it off, but is lacking in techniques . . . Likes motor-cycles . . . Following Chemical Engineering curriculum.

Centers

GARY TINNEY, senior. After being "second best" for two years, Gary now is anxious to assume the first string role he has been grooming for . . . Was active in three sports in high school and was a scholar-athlete . . . Had a good spring practice and is considered set at his post . . . Sociology major.

DAVE RINEHIMER, sophomore. Dave is one of a group of lineman from freshman team counted on for contributions this year. Is rated number two at center on the basis of spring drills, could see duty at guard, too. Was all-county in high school and distinguished himself in baseball . . . Agricultural Business major.

Linebackers

BRILL BEIERLE, senior. Brill has been waiting patiently for an opportunity to play and hopes it comes this year . . . Linebacking is beset by lack of experienced players and Brill, up 15 pounds from last year, is in thick of battle for a job . . . Majoring in History.

LARRY CLYMER, senior. Described as "the guy with a smile in his voice," Larry has a refreshing outlook on life and football . . . Three years of experience in Knight position, could be best football player . . . Compensates for lack of size by fine quickness and love of contact . . . Great strength developed by weights . . . His uncle, Bruce, a Rutgers halfback . . . Majors in History.

BOB COPPOLA, senior. Soft spoken and fluent off the field, Bob is a terror on, completely dedicated to the game . . . Will play anywhere, but has been moved from last year's starting assignment at offensive guard to old linebacking spot . . . Would like to go both ways . . . Was outstanding in spring game . . . A Political Science major.

JIM LIGUORI, senior. Jim has played the linebacking position throughout his football career and seems a sure bet for action there in a reserve role this year . . . Ran track at Toms River . . . Raises roses as a hobby . . . Plans to attend medical school . . . Follows curriculum in Environmental Sciences.

ANDY MALEKOFF, sophomore. Moved up from frosh and took over vacant defensive spot and appears good bet to keep it . . . Has size, speed and learns rapidly . . . His uncle, "Boomy," football and baseball coach at Somerville High and former Rutgers star, received alumni award this year . . . Played tackle for frosh . . . A Liberal Arts student.

ROY MALINAK, sophomore. As a high schooler, Roy was All-state Group II as well as on numerous other all teams . . . Played halfback and quarterback on offense and was a defensive halfback . . . At Rutgers last year, he played on frosh lacrosse team . . . Three-sport background . . . Agricultural Business major.

SAM PICKETTS, junior. Sam gravitated to the "Mike" position last year and was outstanding . . . His three-sport background makes him highly mobile . . . Moves to middle guard in 5-man defense . . . High school quarterback, was also fullback, was tried here as flanker . . . A Liberal Arts major.

LARRY WALSH, senior. A former offensive halfback, Larry saw action behind Clymer at Rover position on defense . . . Could be there again or at a defensive halfback slot . . . Received "most improved" award among lacrosse lettermen last season as midfielder . . . Majors in History.

Quarterbacks

LEO GASIENIECA, sophomore. Leo would seem to be heir apparent to Yanceff . . . His strong arm showed well as frosh and in spring, could see a good bit of action . . . Moved second unit well in spring game . . . Good speed and could develop into running threat . . . Wants to be a lawyer . . . Liberal Arts curriculum.

MIKE YANCHEFF, senior. The hero of last year's victory over Columbia, Mike waited in the wings for two years and is expected to step in and take charge . . . Big, strong and great arm . . . Will continue with punting chores but not with other special assignments . . . Excellent attitude and field sense . . . Considered by some as having professional ability . . . Majors in Landscape Architecture.

Offensive Backs

BILL DONALDSON, junior. Out of spring practice with an elbow injury, Bill will battle a host of young runners for the backup spot behind Ferrughelli which he held last season . . . Was fourth leading rusher in 1969 on 20 carries for 64 yards . . . Also can fill in at tailback if needed . . . History major.

STEVE FERRUGHELLI, senior. In the words of John Bateman, "Steve can do everything, including block and catch, and I can't imagine any better (fullback) in the country" . . . Will play close to 230 . . . Top runner last year with 564 yards in 131 carries but only one TD by rush . . . Caught 18 passes . . . Could be best Rutgers fullback ever . . . Majors in Animal Science.

BRUCE MILLER, sophomore. Bruce gained 100 yards in the first half of the spring game with runs of 39, 25 and 23 included . . . An All-stater from Dover . . . Brother Bob, was captain of 1970 Scarlet baseball team . . . Shows excellent breakout potential . . . High school baseballer . . . Liberal Arts student.

ARNY NARDINI, junior. In spite of little service last year, Andy has become a dependable runner who will see lots of action . . . Listed at fullback, could also go to tailback . . . Four years of high school baseball . . . Business major.

LARRY ROBERTSON, junior. Larry played part-time at tailback last year and displayed remarkable talents, tallying 36 points and gaining 405 yards . . . He carried 95 times and had 5 TD's by rushing . . . Also caught 14 passes, returned kickoffs . . . High school teammate of Yanceff . . . Scored 3 TDs against Navy . . . Varsity baseball outfielder . . . Studies Meteorology in Agriculture and Environmental Science curriculum.

DALE SCHOBBER, junior. The deck has been stacked against Dale, considered among outstanding frosh in '68 . . . Had mononucleosis in 1969 spring practice and had sprained ankle last spring . . . Was reserve back last year, had shot at linebacker in spring, now is running back again . . . History student.

Flanker Backs

AL FENSTEMACHER, senior. The team's third ranking receiver last year, Al is the team's most veteran pass catcher. With good speed and fine hands, Al has caught 22 aerials in each of the past two seasons . . . Two TD's in '69 . . . Also a punt and kickoff return specialist . . . A Forestry major . . . Three sport star in high school.

JOHN RABUCK, junior. John was a third-line quarterback last season but his fine speed prompted a shift to flanker . . . Proved he could catch in the spring and figures to provide important reserve strength for flanker corps . . . Liberal Arts major.

Defensive Backs

SAM CHAPMAN, senior. Sam had a superb year in 1969 as a safetyman and has developed great maturity in the position . . . Intercepted 5 passes and returned them for 89 yards . . . All-stater from Elizabeth, plus honorable mention All-American . . . Much stronger and heavier, partly due to weight lifting in off season and tonsilectomy . . . Majoring in Agricultural Business.

HAL LIPPMAN, senior. Determined to fill the defensive halfback slot vacated by Jim Renshaw, Hal emerged from spring practice as the favorite for the job . . . Will have to fight off similar challenges this fall . . . Played offensive halfback in high school . . . A Psychology major, intends to go to dental school.

JOHN MILLER, senior. A former flanker, the Coral Gables, Fla. resident led the team in interceptions last year with 8 and also caught 2 passes as a flanker fill-in . . . With Chapman, provides an experienced deep defensive duo . . . His 8 interceptions one short of school record . . . A Liberal Arts major.

RICH SPIZUOCO, senior. Rich has been a lacrosse letterman for the last two years and gives the Scarlet a tough talented replacement at safety . . . A former quarterback . . . Had longest interception return in 1969 . . . 53 yards . . . Could fill in at other defensive spots . . . A Business Administration major.

CENTENNIAL REVIEW

More than two years before the 1969 game between Rutgers and Princeton, a committee was formed under the chairmanship of Rutgers Athletic Director Albert Twitchell to discuss plans for the Centennial celebration. From the outset the committee envisioned one of the most intense promotional campaigns ever attempted at Rutgers and in retrospect, it can be said that it was a highly successful celebration, though Princeton might not agree.

Although the first game (Nov. 6, 1869) was a local event, the committee hoped to extend the 1969 celebration across the country. And with the cooperation of the NCAA, that was accomplished. Among the nationally oriented programs were the issuance of a 6¢ commemorative postage stamp in New Brunswick the day before the game, the use of 100th Anniversary helmet decals by approximately 350 college football teams, the coining of a centennial medallion and the selection of a Football Centennial Queen, Barbara Specht of Texas Tech, to reign over the centennial events. ABC was present for a regional telecast of the game.

Locally, Rutgers students sponsored a parade through New Brunswick, staged a Saturday morning re-enactment of the first Rutgers-Princeton game and built a huge display which graced the northeast corner of the stadium.

Some 50 Rutgers and Princeton coaches and captains were honored at the game, Ozzie Nelson serving as master of ceremonies.

Rutgers honored Hall of Famers, the bands, All-Americans, the Alumni and coaches and managers in other games during the season.
